Project

Field(s)	Performing Arts
Description	In broad terms, the project seeks to create a European Platform of creative centers and theaters that work with emerging artists and use and develop tools to enhance and support the creative process (e.g. artistic residencies, mediation, etc.). It is mainly a platform that focuses strongly on the process of creating, turning this support into projects of artistic residencies, art factories. It aims also to create an “alternative network” for the contemporary performing arts.

Profile

The ideal partners would be networks, associations, centers of creation of performing arts, cultural spaces, etc. that could act as motivators or facilitators in their territory. Institutions capable of establishing a flow of constant support to emerging creation within their area, able to involve other cultural agents and institutions. This is the main profile we are looking for. These motivators must have professional experience with creation, with residencies, with creative processes and the support to emergence.
