Aims and activities of the organisation	For over 80 years, the Academy of Fine Arts in Gdańsk has played a significant role in Poland's artistic and cultural landscape. Located in the city centre, it creates a unique environment for education and creative work. The Academy offers programs in painting, sculpture, graphic arts, design, architecture, and intermedia, combining traditional techniques with modern approaches, including digital art and experimental practices. It emphasizes the development of artistic independence, critical thinking, and interdisciplinary collaboration, supported by an active faculty of artists, designers, and researchers. At the same time, the institution serves as an important cultural hub, organizing exhibitions, lectures, and public events that foster dialogue between artists and audiences while maintaining a balance between tradition and innovation.
